Kris "Tanto" Paronto has been involved in security operations in hostile environments for over 10 years.

His team's involvement with the September 11th, 2012 attack on the U.S. special mission in Benghazi, Libya was paramount in the saving of US lives and assets.

But before he was a security contractor, Tanto was a U.S. Army

Ranger from Battalion 75th Ranger Regiment. As a Ranger, they are trained to lead by being pushed to their physical and mental limits so they can perform against impossible odds in punishing situations. Tanto shares stories from his training experiences that played a role in his team's heroic response in Benghazi as he explains the importance of demanding excellence when you commit to improving your life.
